

Burn Bright!

Grab your sunscreen! It's time to head to the beach to soak in the sunshine, relax in the cool salt breezes, splash in the waves...and savor the grit of sand in our sandwiches! Yum.

Summer is here, but as the days are heating up, do you find your faith growing cold? Does your Bible study group stop meeting in the summer? Does your daily routine become anything but routine?

Finding time for prayer, Bible reading, and worship can become a challenge during the busy summer months. And it sure is tempting to trade time with God for that pool party and barbecue! But don't let your faith burn out just because it's time for summer break. Pack your beach bag with the following faith essentials, and stay burning bright for Jesus all summer long!

Sunscreen—Prayer. Cover yourself with prayer every day for protection from burnout and any harm that might come your way.

Snacks—Scripture. Taste and see that the Lord is good all summer by packing your favorite Scripture verses with you in bite-sized pieces to nibble on throughout the day.

Sunglasses—Focus. Keep your eyes on Jesus and you won't be blinded by temptations that distract you from following your faith.

Camera—Be a picture of love! Capture the memories of the special times you share with friends and family, and be a picture of God's love wherever you go!

Beach mat—Rest. Take a break from stress this summer. Don't become weary in doing good; let someone else carry the load for awhile...and find your rest in Jesus.

Swimsuit—Courage. If you're going to burn bright for Jesus this summer, you'll need to be willing to shine your light. Remember, it's not about exposing yourself; it's about exposing others to Jesus!

By volunteering for even a few hours a month, you can help brighten someone's life or freshen up the area where you live. Gather family and friends and commit to blessing your community by pitching in to meet the needs of others. Plant a flower, give a ride, make a sandwich. Need more ideas? ## Be a Pearl

What is a pearl? A pearl starts out as a simple grain of sand. When that grain of sand enters into an oyster, it causes irritation that makes the oyster react by coating the grains with a substance called nacre. Over time, the layers of nacre build up and become a pearl.

A woman who decides to be a Pearl allows God to refine and mold her through the irritations she encounters in life into something of beauty that reflects God's love to the world. As she shines that love, she becomes a mentor to another girl or woman—a Pearl in a strand of Pearls that represent all the women who have encouraged, loved, and believed in her. Who are the Pearls in your life and on your strand that have blessed you? Who will you be a Pearl for this summer?

Let the Sunshine In!

Are dirty, streaky windows making the gorgeous sunshine of summer look dingy and dull in your home? Toss aside the products in your cleaning closet that are labeled with advertising-speak, and try the professional's secret: cool, clean...water! Add 2 to 3 tablespoons of vinegar per gallon to cut the dirt, and then follow these two easy steps:

- Wash the inside of the window with horizontal strokes and the outside with vertical strokes (so you can tell on which side you missed a spot).
- Dry your windows with crumpled up newspaper for a sparkling clean, lint-free, and streak-free shine!
